EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A lifelong supporter of Rangers, Bailey Rice made his senior debut at just 16. However, 2025 marked his true breakthrough, with nine starting appearances, including a start in the Europa League quarter-finals against Athletic Bilbao and a standout performance at Old Trafford against Manchester United. His performance is already attracting attention in Scotland and internationally, with fans considering him a fundamental part of the club's future at Ibrox.

TECHNICAL ANALYSIS

Rice is distinguished by his remarkable composure, vision, and wide passing range, with particular accuracy in long-range passing. His ability to execute line-breaking passes adds a progressive dimension to his game beyond a purely defensive-minded profile.

TACTICAL ANALYSIS

His excellent reading of the game and interceptions stand out as core defensive traits, complemented by the composure needed to build play from deep positions. This combination allowed him to perform at a high level in high-pressure fixtures, including a European quarter-final and a derby-level occasion against Manchester United.

PHYSICAL AND MENTAL ASPECTS

Despite fluctuations in Rangers' coaching staff, his focus on securing his place in the squad has been unwavering, qualities that have earned him praise from interim manager Barry Ferguson. From Europa League challenges to local derbies, Rice shows in every minute on the pitch a dedication and commitment consistent with a player living out a boyhood dream at his own club.
