EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Gilberto Mora is already making a notable impact in Liga MX with Club Tijuana. At 15, he became the youngest player to score in Mexico's top division, and his performances have translated into goals, assists, and standout moments, including a brilliant back-heel assist and a composed decisive goal against León.

TECHNICAL ANALYSIS

A right-footed playmaker, Mora possesses talent and intelligence well beyond his age. His playing style combines cheek and craftiness with the vision of a seasoned number 10, and his strong ability on set pieces adds another route of offensive production to his profile.

TACTICAL ANALYSIS

His agility, creativity, and ability to operate effectively in tight spaces have already earned him early comparisons to figures such as Pablo Aimar. He represents a constant threat on the counter-attack, with exceptional game vision that allows him to generate creative passes in the final third.

PHYSICAL AND MENTAL ASPECTS

Renowned European clubs such as Barcelona and Feyenoord have already invited him for trials, and although regulations prevent his transfer to Europe until age 18, interest in signing him is already palpable. His inclusion in Mexico's preliminary 60-man list for the senior national team ahead of the 2025 CONCACAF Nations League, at just 16, reflects exceptional competitive maturity for his age.
